

Dalcroze Training

On-Campus Dalcroze Eurhythmics Summer Course

COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY
ONLINE

Capture the pulse of modern music pedagogy and discover how to bring your classroom to life with a sense of play. This progressive, student-centered course — affiliated with, and based on, the American Eurhythmics Society (AES) curriculum — gives you the skills to infuse your practice with dynamic, purposeful education.

While a variety of perspectives on this method of music education are presented, a focus is given to the following areas to unlock creativity, nurture imagination, and open doors to enriched musical experiences:

- Eurhythmics – Train the body in beat, rhythm, meter, phrase, form, nuance, affect, aesthetics, and Plastique Animée.
- Solfège – Train the ear, eye, and voice in pitch, melody, and harmony.
- Improvisation – Bring all elements together according to the student's own interpretation, including movement, voice, and instrument.
- Pedagogy – Learn techniques that enable you to adapt what you have learned to your own work.
- Teaching demonstration with children – observe faculty leading children in eurhythmics activities and learn through discussions and coursework.

Prepare for certification through the American Eurhythmics Society

This course prepares you to earn your certification through the American Eurhythmics Society. Many students choose to pursue certification to help advance their music education careers and to potentially receive salary benefits. Course faculty are Master Teaching Artists, which makes our training program one of the strongest in the country, and enables students to test on site for their Eurhythmics Certificate. Learn more at the AES website.
